

The seal of the Statesboro Police Department is centered in the background. It is a shield-shaped emblem with a blue border. At the top, the word "POLICE" is written in large, white, serif capital letters. Below it, "STATESBORO GEORGIA" is written in smaller, white, serif capital letters. The central part of the seal features a circular emblem with a blue background and white stars. Inside this circle are four smaller circular icons: a classical building with columns, a hand holding a torch, a scale of justice, and a gear. The word "CITY" is on the left and "1803" is on the right of the central emblem. At the bottom of the seal, the word "GEORGIA" is written in white, serif capital letters. The entire seal is set against a dark blue background.
