THUNDER BAY...Here is Where I Found Myself.

Picture this. The greatest of the Great Lakes is at our doorstep. The ancient Nor'Wester Mountain Range defines the city's setting and skyline. The Boreal forest and lowlands that surround us comprise some of the most intact boreal forest in the world. With such spectacular and diverse scenery, it's little wonder why Thunder Bay is one of Canada's Premier Outdoor Cities.

Try paddling, zip lining, rock climbing, hiking and mountain biking. Set sail on a 90 minute tour of the Thunder Bay harbour or escape to nearby islands. Be a light keeper for the day. Ascend the tower for a breath-taking view. And "there's snow better place" than Thunder Bay and surrounding region in the winter. Aside from skiing and snowboarding there are many ways to enjoy winter both on and off the slopes. The choices are endless. Come find your unique adventure.

Thunder Bay might be best known for its lakefront location and easy access to nature, but the city also plays host to an astonishing number of year-round events that never fail to draw a big crowd. From mouth-watering food affairs to royally entertaining music, dance, theatre and film festivals to local, national and internationally celebrated sporting events – here fun times are always on the menu!

Speaking of food, Thunder Bay is a place where a culinary discovery lives around every corner. The city's culinary landscape is more varied than ever before. No matter where you go in Thunder Bay, you will find the makings of a delicious meal from gourmet food trucks serving up fine food on four wheels to a plethora of local kitchens creating a fusion of the world's best food traditions.

As a proud addition to the city, experience Thunder Bay's beautiful waterfront – Prince Arthur's Landing, a spectacular mixed-use village enveloped by public art installations, a lake-view restaurant and year-round attractions, activities and amenities. Most definitely a must see!

We invite you to take advantage of our northern hospitality and the natural scenic beauty our area offers. When you do come, just bring your camera and the willingness to be spontaneous. The extraordinary is what visiting Thunder Bay is all about!

Welcome to Fort William First Nation

LEARN ABOUT OUR TRADITIONAL TERRITORY

The Anishinaabe Nation are the Indigenous people who've lived in and around Northwestern Ontario for thousands of years. Traditionally, the people were closely tied to hunting, fishing and gathering aligned with a 13 moon cycle. An immense legacy of knowledge, cultural beliefs, values, practices and language has been conveyed by Elders and is constantly changing and adapting for future generations.

The Fort William Reserve was created in 1853 under provisions of the Robinson-Superior Treaty. Today, over 2,400 members live on or off reserve with governance by an elected Chief and Council.

INVIGORATING NEW FRONTIERS & OPPORTUNITIES
Fort William First Nation respects its past and is committed to strengthening a unified, thriving and collaborative community. Guided by a robust decision-making framework, FWFN invests in its members by emphasizing quality of life through social, cultural, economic and environmental innovations.

Recent initiatives include: 11 unit housing project, scheduled for completion in Spring of 2018. JK/SK pilot satellite classroom of St. Ann's School in the community-September 2018 with the Thunder Bay District Catholic School Board and setting the precedent to assist other First Nation's with the lagoon expansion construction model developed with INAC.

RICH WITH HISTORY, LEGENDS & PLACE NAMES
Towering over 1,000' in height, Anemki Wajiw (Thunder Mountain or Mount McKay Lookout) is a sacred site for traditional ceremonies and the highest and best known of the ancient Nor'Wester Mountains. From the summit, the spirit bird, Anemki watches over Fort William First Nation.

Visitors to Anemki Wajiw can enjoy an unparalleled panoramic view of Gitchigaamiing (Lake Superior) and Nanaboshoo (the Sleeping Giant), new Pow Wow Grounds, a skyline walkway, a commemorative war memorial and three scenic hiking trails recognized as Best-In-Town Hike by Lake Superior Magazine.

For more information about Fort William First Nation and ongoing cultural experiences, visit FWFN.COM.
